Workshop Description: Do your students struggle with independent tasks and activities? Are you looking for ways to encourage autonomy in your students? Come join Cristin Boyd, a veteran ESL/EFL instructor with nearly 20 years experience, in an interactive workshop focusing on student-centered activities that can foster student autonomy and independence. A comprehensive group-based activity that incorporates all skill areas will be the primary focus of this workshop.

Cristin A. Boyd is an instructor at the International Gateways-Studies in American Language (SAL) program at San Jose State University. Cristin currently teaches advanced-level writing, critical thinking, and reading to her IEP students and Reading and Writing Methodology to South Korean English teachers as part of the Teach English in English program. She has also taught in Poland, Chile, and South Korea.
